Ordinary Sunday 22 [Pentecost 12]

– Sunday 1 September 2019

Jeremiah 2.4-13

Psalm 81.1, 10-16;

Hebrews 13.1-8, 15-16

Luke 14.1 (2-6) 7-14

'Let mutual love continue,' today's passage from Hebrews begins, but we are then called to go further. The writer concludes with, 'Do not neglect to do good and to share what you have, for such sacrifices are pleasing to God.' The implication is that such help is to be sacrificial and open-ended – those we help may be able to return the favour in some way, or they may not. Jesus in the Gospel calls us to practise the same generosity towards those who cannot repay us that God shows towards us – we can't repay God, above all for what he has done for us through Jesus.

Give thanks for Jesus, 'the same yesterday and today and for ever', and pray that you will be filled with his Spirit of love and generosity.

Give thanks for the work and witness of the Council of Anglican Provinces of Africa.

Rest For The Weary

There is rest for the weary
And there's strength for the weak,
That is what God offers
To those who humbly seek

For it's only in the seeking
That we will surely find
Rest for our weary bodies
And peace for our troubled minds

And it's there in the asking
That we will come to know
God in all His splendour
With His wisdom, we will grow

And it's only in the knocking
That the door will open wide
So we can walk into
What He graciously provides

So maybe for a while
We can rest along the road
And put on Jesus yoke,
For easy is His load.
